Thank you for your letter pointing out the alterations to the above plans.

The original objections still stand that the proposed building fills the available land and is out of scale with the existing neighbouring homes.

I notice that the air source heat pump is not shown on the north elevation of the plans; nor do the plans show by how much the pump sticks out from the wall. The proposed building fills the plot and the pump therefore may be over the building line onto public land. These pumps are recommended to be on the sunny side of a building otherwise they may be constantly working and hence the noise will be correspondingly intrusive.

The windows, however glazed, will still overlook the neighbouring windows giving the present accommodations a lack of privacy.

Yours faithfully
Peggy and Mike Rowe
