We are writing to object to the above planning application. The plans show a disregard for neighbours and their enjoyment of their property and surroundings. The plot is small for the envisaged building and appears to make difficulties of access by vehicles needed by neighbours plus the emergency services. I wonder too how much of a nuisance will be noise from the air source heat pump at the rear of the building which will be enclosed by the other properties near by and the hill. There have been several planning applications for this area in the past and all have been rejected. Although one does not own the view, it is sad that the applicants wish to take advantage of the view while depriving their future neighbours of that same view plus the applicants have not consulted with all the neighbours as they have stated. Is it really necessary to build here when other areas have been designated for building e.g. Telegraph?

Sincerely

Mike and Peggy Rowe
