Hi Sean,

I have been out on site this afternoon and attach pictures of the area where the bridge/walkway will land. It is already developed and the applicant intends to do the absolute minimum in terms of groundworks i.e. fix it to what is already there.

Regards,
Andrew King

Hi Andrew

Could you ask the applicant for more detail on the amount of ground disturbance required for this application on the northern end of the bridge? It appears from the elevation that there will be a cut into the slope. Also, a minor point, but I think the north arrow on the plans is pointing south. Unless I'm very confused, which is possible.

Thanks

Sean
