Dear Sir/Madam

In consideration of planning application P-21-002 for multiple complex of housing at Old Town, my only concern is that this area is quite low lying, with the projected rise in sea levels and with the obvious and apparent wetter winters we seem to be experiencing, I am a little worried this is not future proof.

We desperately need affordable housing to meet local needs but the investors may find they face flooding of gardens or worse houses, the whole area is at present water logged.

I know the reasoning is that services are more readily available for this site, but higher ground for this level of investment would make more sense with the dramatic changes we are facing.

These are only my thoughts and not an "anti build"

All the best.

Alison King.
