

Olivia Rickman

---

From: fiona Morton [REDACTED]
Sent: 05 January 2022 11:00
To: Planning (Isles of Scilly)
Subject: planning application p/21/105/cou

Dear Planners,

I would like to go back to my original letter where I state "we support the proposal in principle but wonder if it could be positioned a little more sympathetically?"

I included a photo from the upstairs window just to show, literally, my view of the proposed development - simple as. (also, the hedge was last cut, back in September)

However, I would like to add a few things now.

1. wooden panels surrounding the PV array were not mentioned in the Design and Access Plan - good idea.
2. In retaliation to my original letter, Terry has padlocked both gates going through the path leading to Highertown. This is a route I hardly use but everyone else from Little Arthur Farm next door, do use it for going to work at Churchtown and the Post Office, both situated in Highertown.
3. In the Design and Access Plan he states that the Fire Services have access to his cottages and chalets. Now there are padlocks on the gates the fire service doesn't have access - I also have concerns about access to our house too.
4. Terry states in his other response to Adam that he hasn't heard or seen any complaints from Little Arthur Cafe and Bistro (the next nearest neighbour who doesn't actually overlook this particular field) so I wonder why he has asked the owner (in his retaliation to me) to take away the outside tables which he gave permission for her to have at the top of his field at the start of the covid pandemic. This will inevitably have a detrimental effect on her business (which I have no invested interest in whatsoever) So why take his frustration out on this business?

So, I think this just about wraps it up as far as I'm concerned. Going back to the original letter I wrote, if it can't be placed somewhere more "sympathetic", and the council grant permission to let it go ahead, then I will live with it obviously!

However, it would be nice if it could not involve the people around me as that just isn't fair on them.

Regards,
Fiona Morton
Par Cottage, St. Martins, TR25 0QL